From the Badger Angle

(By Betty Pruett Farrington)
WASHINGTON, D. C.—Exhaustive congressional investigation of the agricultural industry was proposed in a concurrent resolution introduced in the senate by Senator Lenoir. It was more or less the outcome of demands by farmers that the federal government take some steps to meet the present conditions in the agricultural industry. In his resolution, Senator Lenoir proposed that a joint commission of agricultural inquiry consisting of six senators appointed by the president of the senate and six representatives appointed by the speaker of the house make a thorough investigation of the plight of the farmers. He proposed that the house members of the commission be appointed from the house committees on Agriculture, Ways and Means, Interstate and Foreign Commerce, and Banking and Currency, and that the senate members be appointed from the senate committees on Agriculture, Finance, Interstate Commerce, and Commerce.

Urges 90-Day Probe
The resolution proposes that the commission be given ninety days in which to investigate and report on the following subjects:
"1. The cause of the present condition of agriculture.
"2. The comparative condition of industries other than agriculture.
"3. The relation of prices of commodities other than agricultural products to such products.
"4. The banking and financial resources and credits of the country, especially as affecting agricultural credits.
"5. The marketing and transportation facilities of the country."

Senator Lenoir also proposed that the commission make recommendations for legislation such as would assist in remedying present conditions.
Food Shortage
"The present condition of agriculture is such as to cause alarm for the future in that unless remedied the United States will in a few years be forced to import much of the food necessary for its own inhabitants," the senator said in the preamble to his resolution. "Reputable farm organizations have by formal action in their conventions declared that the present deplorable condition of agriculture is due to discrimination against this basic industry, in the matter of credit, transportation, and marketing."

"It is commonly reported that notwithstanding the low prices of food products received by the producers thereof the consumer is forced to pay an increase of several hundred per cent over such prices.
"Producers of grains, cotton, and livestock are threatened with ruin if present conditions shall longer continue. There is produced in the United States an abundance of nearly all necessities of life, and with the elimination of waste and with economical marketing and distribution practices and a proper relation between prices of the people of the United States should be and continue to be prosperous."
"It is the duty of congress to determine the facts causing present conditions and to apply such remedies for the same as may be within its jurisdiction."

The Lenoir resolution was referred to the senate committee on agriculture. It is an expression of the alarm of senators from agricultural districts as to the condition prevailing among the farmers there. It probably will have the support of most senators from the middle west and northwest, not to say anything of the others.

Senator Robert M. La Follette's speech on Irish independence attracted wide attention. Although there was only the usual fair attendance of senators to listen to his address, the galleries were packed, particularly on Monday when he had given notice that he would address the senate on the subject. Among the senators' auditors on that day was Senator Lenoir.
The senior senator's address was a comprehensive argument in favor of his resolution declaring that the United States should recognize the independence of the Irish republic. Reviewing the pro and con on the question, he said in conclusion:
Liberty Endangered
"What is the fundamental cause of this reign of terror that prevails in Ireland today? Is it not remarkable that for 700 years the powerful British empire has sought to destroy her nearest neighbor? What is its significance?
"It is merely the old struggle between imperialism and nationalism. England has fought Ireland because for centuries her government has been in the hands of men, who, while they could not stamp out liberty in England itself, have been able to control the foreign policy of the British empire and to make it a policy of force and imperialism. Ireland has fought England through the centuries because the spirit of independence planted in the hearts of that heroic people before the first invasion of their country has never been allowed to die.
"The British policy in Ireland deserves the condemnation of the world. It is without warrant in law or morals. It is founded on falsehood and

HOUSE DEMOCRATS FORCE PASSAGE OF PROPOSAL TO CUT U. S. ARMY TO 150,000

WASHINGTON.—Holding a solid front against a republican split, democrats forced through the house Saturday an amendment to the army appropriation bill cutting down the enlisted force to 150,000 men. The Kahn proposal for a bigger force never got to a vote.
The bill, as approved by Secretary Weeks, made provision for 155,000 men, or 12,000 more than the number fixed by the measure passed just session and vetoed.
There was no certainty, however, that the 150,000 figure would stand, for the vote was in committee of the whole and the house may demand a separate vote on the amendments in passing the bill next week.
The amendment for reduction of the enlisted strength to 150,000, the lowest figure suggested in the long debate, was offered by Representative Byrnes, democrat, South Carolina. Only two democrats opposed it and many republicans gave it their support. The vote was 109 to 82.

WAGE CUT FOR U. S. SEAMEN IS ORDERED BY SHIPPING BOARD

Government Ship Operators Instructed to Make Reduction Effective at Midnight

ACTION ON WAGE DISPUTE UP TO DAVIS AND HOOVER

President Will Not Appoint Mediation Board

WASHINGTON.—Orders have gone out to all government ship operators to make effective a 15-percent wage reduction at midnight Saturday. It was announced today by the shipping board.
Pending the result of Secretary Davis' recommendation to President Harding for the appointment of a wage commission, board officials said that the orders making effective the proposals offered for a readjustment of the marine workers' wages and working conditions would stand unless orders were received the contrary.
Andrew Purseuth, president of the International Seamen's union and William S. Brown, representing the Marine Engineers' Beneficial association, said the workers would not send out any ships while wage reductions were put into force. They would not predict that a strike would occur tomorrow, still holding hope that the president would appoint a commission of three to go into the union representatives through Secretary Davis early in the day, but that a commission might be named by Secretaries Davis and Hoover in his name. It was intimated that he had left the whole subject to the labor and commerce heads.
Should the union officials' hopes for a settlement go unrealized, it was pointed out that there would be no immediate general strike because many crews might be affected were on the high seas and any tie-up of shipping would come only as it became necessary for them to sign up their crews.

TWO PLANS ARE PUT FORWARD AT MEETING OF SUPREME COUNCIL

Demand of France and Belgium for Immediate Action Opposed by Britain and Italy

FRANCE MAY ACT ALONE IN OCCUPATION OF RUHR REGION

Short Time Ultimatum to Germany Plan of Britain

PARIS.—(By the Associated Press.)—The reparations commission has prepared a brief formal notification to Germany, which will be delivered Sunday reciting the fact that Germany has defaulted in the payment of twelve billion gold marks, due before May 1.
Germany's reply to the commission's demand that 1,000,000,000 gold marks be deposited in the bank of France on April 30 has been merely a repetition of the one billion marks offer in the proposals sent to the United States, Germany agreeing to deliver 150,000,000 immediately and $50,000,000 scrip payable in three months.
A sharp difference of opinion between the French, on the one side, and the British and Italians on the other arose Saturday afternoon at the meeting of the supreme council, to consider enforcement of the treaty of Versailles, and the steps to be taken to enforce payment of the reparations by Germany.
The French delegation is dissatisfied with results of the conference and the present feeling of the delegation is that France, with Belgium, will have to act alone in the occupation of the Ruhr if the allies fail to approve such a step. They await Sunday's meeting with considerable anxiety.
Premier Briand of France, who had the support of M. Janner, the Belgian foreign minister, made a strong statement.

SIMMONS RESIGNS
PARIS.—A semi-official note issued in Berlin states that Dr. Simmons, the foreign minister, tendered his resignation to President Ebert, but the latter refused it, says a dispatch from the German capital Saturday. The president, the note says, pointed out to Dr. Simmons that the cabinet and the Reichstag had approved his reparations proposals.

Contractors Silent
E. H. Luening, secretary of the master builders' association, said that he had not been present at the meeting and did not know what had taken place. P. H. Schwabbe made a similar answer to requests for information.
R. A. Knutson, organizer of the Trades and Labor council, left immediately after the meeting and went to his brother's home near Bangor. When interviewed over the telephone Saturday night, Mr. Knutson said: "It looks as though we are going to weather the storm and it seems at this time as though the master builders are not going to put any reductions in effect."

NO PROSPECT OF BUILDING TROUBLE HERE FOR PRESENT

Week of Conferences Between Builders and Workers Finds Situation Unchanged

NO NEW AGREEMENT BUT OLD SCALE TO BE PAID?

"All Quiet" is Only Statement After Final Conference

AFTER a week of conferences between master builders and representatives of the building trades it was indicated on Saturday night that while no definite agreement had been reached as to wages and working conditions here for the coming season, there was at least no immediate prospect of a cessation of building in the city.
Wage agreements expired on April 1, and since that time there have been repeated conferences between contractors and workers in the effort to arrive at a settlement, the contractors proposing reductions in wages for the various crafts and the men insisting on maintenance of the existing scales, and demanding signed agreements. Since the strike last year building has been going on under a working agreement re-instating terms in effect before the strike, but the contractors refused to sign new contracts.
Continue Present Scale
It is understood, although no statement to this effect was to be obtained from either side of the controversy, that the situation will continue unchanged for the present at least, the men receiving the same scale as paid hitherto. No definite statement was given, following the last meeting Saturday afternoon, which ended about 6 o'clock.
Louis Alberts, president of the carpenters' union, said Saturday night that "everything was quiet" when asked for a statement on the building trades situation.
"We have been instructed by our international officers not to accept a wage reduction," said Mr. Alberts. "We are satisfied with the way things are going at present. There will be no strike Monday; in fact there is no indication that there will be any strike over the present wage situation."

Mr. Haugen's term of office as a member of the Wisconsin tax commission expired Saturday, and on Monday he will be succeeded by Judge Charles D. Rosa, Beloit. Haugen is one of the oldest figures in Wisconsin official life, having been a railroad commissioner when Jerry Rusk was governor of Wisconsin in 1882.

PASSAGE MARKS FIRST STEP OF THE ADMINISTRATION TO PLACE U. S. ON PEACE BASIS

Three Democrats Join Republicans in Voting for Measure to Repeal War Resolutions; Resolves to United States Rights Under Versailles Treaty

WASHINGTON.—The administration's first step toward placing the United States on a technical, legal basis of peace was taken Saturday night by the senate in adopting the Knox peace resolution. The vote for adoption of the resolution was forty-nine to twenty-three.

Three democrats voted for the resolution and although no republicans voted against it, Senator Nelson of Minnesota, was paired against it. The democrats voting for it were Senators Myers, Montana; Shields, Tennessee, and Watson, Georgia. Two other democrats, Reed, Missouri, and Walsh, Massachusetts, were announced as favoring the resolution.

The resolution now goes to the house with prospects of prompt action there. No change was made by the senate in the resolution as reported by the foreign relations committee. It would repeal the war resolutions affecting Germany and Austria-Hungary, impound alien enemy property, and reserve to the United States all rights and privileges under the treaty of Versailles and other peace countries.

CHARGE COLLUSION BETWEEN UNIONS AND CONTRACTORS

Seventy-one Named in Chicago Plot to Stifle Competition in Building Materials

CHICAGO, Ill.—Wholesale collusion between building contractors and unions amounting to conspiracy in restraint of trade under the Sherman act is charged in indictments returned Saturday by the federal grand jury. Seventy-one corporations and individuals were named.
Also indictments on similar counts against 39 other corporations and individuals returned by the March grand jury, but suppressed until today, were released.
An agreement between contractors and representatives of the Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers' alliance to keep out the Chicago market all competitive sheet metal products is alleged in one indictment. This conspiracy is said to have been in existence for the past three years. Prices of sheet metal work have been increased it was alleged, fully 10 percent since the situation flared.

The Master Steam Fitters' association and eighteen corporations, twenty-three individuals, members of corporations and one representative of the steam fitters' protective association are named in another indictment. Agreements in restraint of trade in steam and hot water apparatus between persons doing business in Chicago and manufacturers with plants located outside of Illinois, was charged. Prices of heating apparatus were alleged to have been enhanced about 100 per cent through this alleged collusion.
Wholesale dealers in plumbing and heating materials were also charged with conspiracy under the Sherman act.

ARMY STABLES BURN

EL PASO, Texas.—Fire Saturday night destroyed the stables of the Eighty-second United States field artillery at Fort Bliss. The fire extended to the ammunition stores of the regiment and exploding shells and small arms ammunition endangered the lives of the firemen. At 10 p. m. the fire had not been brought under control.

La Follette Supports It

Senator La Follette said he supported it because it would end the war status. He said it was not a treaty and gave notice of full freedom of action in the settlement to be made with Germany.

Explaining his support for the resolution, Senator Myers of Montana said that he stood staunchly for entering the league, but that his hopes were extinguished by the last election. "I consider the ventiler of the people was against ratification," said Senator Myers, "and it appeared to

GIRLS' CLOTHES IS IMPORTANT SUBJECT ON ENTERING HIGH

School is No Place for the Party Gown or Shoes With French Heels

BY CLAUDE L. COOK
The subject of clothing is interesting to one and all, particularly to the high school girl who daily has opportunity to make comparisons among her associates. She soon learns that the most expensive dress is not always the one which presents the best appearance, for if good judgment is used in selecting materials, colors and style, one can dress both attractively and inexpensively.

An attempt is being made by the members of the sewing and art classes to help every girl develop her tastes and ideas in regard to "good style." At present the girls are planning to give a style show Friday afternoon, May 10th, in the high school auditorium to their girl friends and all mothers. They wish to demonstrate their ideas on the subject of appropriate clothes for school, street, party and graduation wear. Many of these costumes have been made in the sewing classes this year. It is hoped that every mother will show her interest by being present at this exhibition.

Changes Her Styles
Many a girl feels when she enters the high school that she is no longer a child. She has become a woman and must demonstrate this fact by changing her mode of dress. Her hair is "done up," French heels, thin blouses with elaborate collars are substituted for the simple hair-braids, button-down blouses, low heels and gingham dresses which belong to the days gone by. She fails to realize that high school is not a fashion show, not a social function, but a place for business where material is assembled to build a life. Such a workshop is not the surroundings for the girl in a party costume or a flimsy blouse, but like any place for labor it requires the dress which is becoming and serviceable.

For after all, the leader among girls is recognized not because she can dress, but because she can do. The first requisite in proper dress is neatness. Ruffles, platings, sashes and dangling tassels are in the way and do not make practical adornment for dresses for school life. The material should be chosen with thought of its wearing quality, for school clothes are subject to much wear and tear. Also care should be used to select an interesting color and texture. And finally the lines of the gown should be becoming to the wearer and the fit comfortable and easy.

Plain Suits Attractive
Plain Peter Thompson or Hoffman suits prove their worth to the high school girl because they possess these characteristics. They are graceful and becoming to the girlish figures. Made up of serge for the winter and of linen, Indian head or chambray for summer, they seem quite indispensable to a girl's wardrobe. Whether dresses built on simple lines make of serge or tulle are practical. These should be provided with detachable, washable linings that serve to protect the under clothing and skin.

"Don't let your costume speak out loud, but pass unnoticed in a crowd" is a good advice to follow, for clothes are often an index to the character of the individual.

Of course the sweet girl graduate looks best in a dress of sheer material, made simply, and worn over appropriate lingerie. It is the time when the American girl can show her true spirit of democracy, for the occasion is not one for splendor and show, but rather for modesty and simplicity. Therefore, daintiness should be the characteristic quality of the graduation dress.

A Satisfactory Dress
A dress is satisfactory only when the details of which it is composed, disappear in the general harmony of the whole. But that harmony can be maintained only when all things which make up the entire appearance are taken into consideration. For a girl to have an artificial face when she is going into real work to be exposed to the real light of day is as lacking in good taste as to wear the party dress in which to scrub the kitchen floor. While the use of powder, rouge and lip-stick is proper when one is to appear in the official life of the ball room or the stage, it has no place in the school or business world and is never used by persons of real refinement. Neither is a girl properly gowned when she has on a sport dress and shoes with French heels, nor a party dress and untidy hair. As was stated before, while the gown is the main article noted in a person's attire, hat, hair, face, dress, stockings, shoes, must all be appropriate to the time, the place, and the girl to be absolutely harmonious. It is this harmony which is one of the true stamps of good judgment and refinement. It is this harmony that the girls of the sewing and art classes will attempt to illustrate.

They cordially invite all the mothers of school girls, and all other ladies interested to come to the high school auditorium, May 6th, at 2:30 o'clock.

A thirsty elephant will drink 25 gallons of water at one time.

A Community Without a Drug Store

Who ever heard of such a thing? Have you ever noticed, in travelling around the country, that few communities, no matter how small, have no drug store?

The drug store may not be according to the idea of those who live in larger cities, but, the drug store is there, nevertheless, filling its place in the life of the community.

Sometimes the "drug store" is merely a few shelves in a general store, but it performs an essential duty in ministering to the physical ills of the community.

Imagine, if you can, a condition by which La Crosse would be robbed of its drug stores overnight! Think of the suffering and inconvenience that would result until other drug stores could be established!

The next time you are in a drug store to wait for a car, get a "light", consult the directory, or to take advantage of any of the drug store's many conveniences, look around and see how well the druggist is prepared to serve you.

PAIGE

The Most Beautiful Car in America.

The Car With 100 Hill Climbing Records

On January 21st the Paige "Daytona" Model 6-66 won the world's stock chassis record for speed by traveling at a rate of 102.8 miles per hour.

Since that time 6-66 models have invited every test of speed and endurance that could prove the metal of a real champion.

At one hundred points in the nation these mighty cars have tackled the best local hill climbing records and surpassed them with ease.

And in each case the tests have been conducted by unprofessional drivers in standard models that any man can buy.

It is not necessary to explain or amplify such consistent success in the field of sport. The records speak for themselves in the most positive terms.

They affirm that, irrespective of price or piston displacement, the Paige 6-66 is the leader of all American sporting cars.

If you believe that "championship form" is the best guarantee of all 'round efficiency, then you must believe in the Paige.

If you believe in demonstrated performance on road, hill and track, the 6-66 with its exclusive power plant must inevitably be the car of your choice.

The Fifth Million

"In spite of the best America can do," reported an American relief official in China some time back, "a million Chinese will starve to death. If America does nothing it will be five million."

The official did not know his country, he has since learned. For America's response to the Chinese famine fund was so hearty, so immediate, that there is now a fighting chance even for the million whom he felt at that time to be doomed. Food by the ship and car load has been pouring out of this country across the Pacific, and four millions of men, women and children live to thank the generosity of the United States.

But it needs another effort, another push, to insure that the fifth million of lives which the relief official at first was sure were doomed "in spite of the best America can do" may also be saved. America has not yet done her best. In many communities, as in La Crosse, we have not yet added our share to the great effort which America is making and must make if the five millions are all to be saved. Here and there some of La Crosse has given, but in the aggregate we have not.

Starvation by the millions is something too awful, almost, for Americans to grasp. We know of poverty, even of hunger, by experience or by contact—but of that horrible lack which is as much beyond hunger as hunger is beyond surfeit we know nothing. We cannot conceive of a bodily condition in which bark, leaves, weeds and straw would be fought for, even killed for, to stay the pains of emptiness. But there is overwhelming evidence that this is the rule of life in five great provinces of China, hitherto among the most prosperous and productive of the Chinese republic. Were even a township so situated in the United States the pity of it would grip this whole nation. Relief would be forthcoming instantly. Yet starvation is starvation, on your doorstep or 6,000 miles away. The Chinese will die as quickly, as miserably, as would you or your neighbor without food. Life and death are not matters of geography.

In decency, in Christianity, this country cannot permit its plentiful stores of food to be untouched while millions starve, no matter where. It is realization of this duty that has already sent out to China the means of saving four million of the five million who are starving. If we can save four million, we can also save five, for there are many places, like La Crosse, to which the appeal has not yet been made. If everyone of us who has not yet given will simply do as much—or as little—as he would do without even thinking for any one of a score of friends, that other million will be saved.

A dollar, three cents a day, will keep a life from going out for a month. Five dollars will keep a family. Ten dollars will keep a family until the spring harvest.

It is easy to save your share of that fifth million on those terms.

"Pittsburgh Plus"

THAT the federal trade commission has started an offensive against the "Pittsburgh plus" inequity, which makes the whole country in a degree an economic tributary of the Pennsylvania steel center, is an incident of the past week the development of which will be watched with interest by almost every industry in the country. The "Pittsburgh plus" method of fixing steel prices is a scheme whereby users of steel in every part of the country are prevented from taking any advantage of favorable geographical locations which might enable them to buy locally better than from the great Pittsburgh district mills. It requires that steel prices, except for rails, shall be quoted everywhere as the base cost at Pittsburgh plus the freight to destination. Thus a man in St. Louis, buying steel made in St. Louis, under the arrangement must pay the freight bill from Pittsburgh although his steel never saw Pennsylvania. The trade commission hints that the fact that most of the iron ore of the country is in control of a single interest is one of the reasons why "Pittsburgh plus" is the price-making rule of thumb which seems reasonable since such an artificial restraint on prices could hardly be maintained against competition except through a control of raw material by which the steel combine could keep the independents on the bit. At any rate, it is apparently a clear discrimination against consumers and an unfair advantage for the city of Pittsburgh. Affecting so important a product as steel, which has a part in nearly every industry, the concern of the whole country in the case is evident. It is likely to prove one of the biggest undertakings of the trade commission; not barring even the pruning of the packing trust.

A Step Forward

THE senate has passed Senator McCormick's bill establishing a national budget system. The house is expected to follow suit quickly and President Harding's interest in the budget policy is such that his signature making the bill a law is assured.

Although the McCormick bill is not so drastic as the extreme proponents of the budget idea would have liked, even they admit that it is a step in the right direction. It represents an evolutionary rather than a revolutionary movement toward better control of the expenditure of the taxpayers' money. Its chief provisions are for a budget bureau to prepare estimates of departmental expenditures, and the creation of the office of controller to audit and account for all governmental expenditures. This official is subject to executive and not congressional removal. In this respect the bill differs from the one passed by the last congress and vetoed by President Wilson on the ground that it gave congress undue authority over an executive official.

For years without number, agitation for budget reform failed of accomplishment because the friends of the idea refused to accept anything short of what they conceived to be a hundred per cent perfect law. If they had been willing to attain their goal a step at a time they would have been much better advised and the taxpayer public would be much better off. Imperfect as the new budget law is, we are disposed to give the administration credit for making good its pre-election pledge. It will be time enough to criticize when the administration refuses to strengthen the law as its weaknesses and inadequacies develop during its application.

CHURCH NEWS

Furnished by the Church News Association

It is now known that theological seminaries of the country will graduate this May about fifty per cent of the numbers graduated at annual commencement before the war, or roughly speaking, for Protestant churches, 1,300 men where as in 1914, it is estimated that 1,600 were graduated. It is further known that senior classes in universities, even those usually providing future students to seminaries, bound later for the Christian ministry, contains very few men who announce a purpose to enter upon church service.

Presbyterian, Congregational, Baptist and Episcopal ministers, members of committees appointed to secure increases in candidates for the ministry, have formally admitted that they have made little progress on their tasks. Some say when seen that they have made no progress at all.

Four great problems come forward for settlement by the Congregational National Council, which meets in Los Angeles, a strong Congregational center, early in July. These four are the re-creating of a Congregational World Movement, making it, if possible, more workable with perhaps fewer members, the support of denominational colleges, an increase in number of candidates for the ministry, and the larger use of trained volunteer lay workers, both men and women. Efforts are making to fill the Los Angeles Council with delegates from churches, and not permit it to be, owing to distance, a council made up of salaried officials. Great interest obtains in the churches, and discussions of these problems are heard everywhere.

Four questions of importance will come up for decision by Presbyterians at their forthcoming General Assembly, to be held at Winona Lake, Indiana, at the end of May. One of them relates to the making decisions out of women, an administrative office in local churches always heretofore held by men. Indications point to the promotion of women. The same indications crop up in other bodies. Episcopalians in Massachusetts have just led all other dioceses in their church in voting that women may be chosen convention delegates. Eighty-five presbyteries among Presbyterians North favor women eligibility, as deacons, to thirty-two against.

Presbyterians of the North and South, two separate official bodies, co-operate to some extent in what is claimed to be an advance in methods in the enlisted and training of men and women who may, in doing certain secular tasks in order that they may, in doing them, locate in particular fields, some home and some in foreign lands, and during spare time or because of their work, promote the cause of their church. So great is the work that a Vacation Sunday has been selected, and the work that is to be observed on May 1. For example, Presbyterian influence is employed to induce people to select the work of physicians, perhaps of nurses, and when trained to standards, to help locate them where they can succeed.

In the two hundred colleges under Catholic control students are being organized in behalf of foreign missions. The movement is known as the Catholic Students' Mission Crusade, and it is closely related to the Society for the Propagation of the Faith and to the Catholic foreign mission work that has headquarters at Mayknoll, on the Hudson. This Catholic foreign work has been developed only within the last few years, work has grown up, especially in the securing of volunteers to go to foreign fields. The Catholics of the United States now stand next to French Catholics in support of foreign effort, especially in financial gifts.

MADISON, Wis.—Several interesting and significant incidents marked this week's sessions of the legislature. The most sensational was the charge made by Senator Skogmo that the governor was playing politics in his economy program. The Industrial Commission appropriation was before the senate. This bill has passed both houses once, but the governor threatened to veto it if it were not recalled and the $300,000 it carried reduced to $285,000. Senator Skogmo said no reasons existed for this slight reduction; that it was demanded merely to make a show of economy. The finance committee later went the governor one better and reduced the amount to $250,000. Then the bill was put out of its suffering by being killed in the assembly.

Senator Huber's Irish republic resolution passed the senate on Thursday. While many were opposed to the resolution it was passed on the ground that it was an expression of sentiment, and could not embarrass the Federal government.

A Man For the Ages

BY

Irving Bacheller

"He has decided that he wants to be a lawyer," said Samson.

"Well, Joe, we'll all do what we can to keep you from being a shot-gun lawyer," Abe Lincoln began. "I've got a good first lesson for you. I found it in a letter which Rufus Choate had written to Judge Davis. In it he says that we rightly have great respect for the decisions of the majority, but that the law is something vastly greater and more sacred than the verdict of any majority. 'It is a thing,' says he, 'which has stood the test of long experience—a body of digested rules and processes bequeathed to us by all the ages of the past. The inspired wisdom of the primeval east, the robust genius of Athens and Rome, the keen modern sense of righteousness are in it. The law comes down to us, mighty and continuous stream of wisdom and experience accumulated, ancestral, widening and deepening and washing itself clearer as it runs on, the agent of civilization, the builder of a thousand cities. To have lived through ages of unceasing trial with the passions, interests and affairs of men, to have lived through the drama and triumphs of conquest, through revolution and reform and all the changing cycles of opinion, to have endured the process of the time and gathered into himself the approbation of civilized humanity is to have proved that it carries in it some spark of immortal life.'"

"The face of Lincoln changed as he recited the lines of the learned and distinguished lawyer of Massachusetts. "His face glowed like a lighted lantern when he began to say these eloquent words," Samson writes in his diary. "He wrote them down so that Joseph could commit them to memory."

"That is a wonderful statement," Samson remarked. "Abe answered: 'It suggests to me that the voice of the people in any one generation may or may not be inspired, but that the voice of the best men of all ages, expressing their sense of justice and of right, in the law, is and must be the voice of God. The spirit and body of its decrees are as indestructible as the throne of Heaven. You can overthrow them but until their power is re-established as surely it will be, you will live in savagery.'"

"You do not deny the right of revolution?" "No, but I can see no excuse for it in America. It has remained for us to add to the body of the law the idea that men are created free and equal. The lack of that saving principle in the codes of the world has been the great cause of injustice and oppression. The voice of revolution here would be like that of Jago in the play and worse. It would be like the unscrupulous lawyer, anxious for a fee, who says to a client, living happily with his wife: 'I know she is handsome and virtuous and intelligent and loving but she has her faults. There are lovelier women. I could easily get a divorce for you.' We quickly throw such a man out of the door. A man's country is like his wife. If she is virtuous and well-disposed he should permit no meddling, odious person to come between them, or to suggest to him that he put poison into her tea. Least of all should he look for perfection in her, knowing that it is not to be found in this world of ours."

Honest Abe rose and walked up and down the room in silence for a moment. Then he spoke. "Choate phrased it well when he said: 'We should beware of awaking the tremendous divinity of chance from their long sleep. Let us think of that when we consider what we shall do with the evils that afflict us.'"

"The boy Joe has been deeply interested in this talk. 'If you'll lend me a book I'd like to begin studying,' he said. 'There's time enough for that,' said Lincoln. 'First I want you to understand what the law is and what the lawyer should be. You wouldn't want to be a peitfogger. Choate is the right model. He has a dignity suited to the greatness of his chosen master. They say that before a justice of the peace in a room no larger than a shoemaker's shop his work is done with the same dignity and care that he would show in the supreme court of Massachusetts. A newspaper says

The Week In the Legislature

BY WM. J. ANDERSON.

week. The Dahl bill which would abolish the personal property offset of the income tax, would list bank dividends for taxation and increase income tax rates was sent to engrossment in the assembly on Thursday. There has been all along the feeling that the temper of the legislature is against material changes in the taxing laws, and that the Dahl bill would not pass; the opponents of it say it is sure of defeat, but the vote to engross following a lively debate changed somewhat the outlook. The personal property offset in income taxes which the bill hopes to abolish is one of the features of the income tax law which a prior bill sought to accomplish but which was killed.

Another tax measure, the Grinstead bill which would place a surtax on land holdings above the value of about $25,000, has been sent to the joint committee on taxation, and will now have a much wider hearing than was expected. This bill is somewhat on the lines of the Nolan bill before congress proposed something entirely new for this state. Unlike the Nolan bill it exempts all improvements on the land including fertility which is conceived as an improvement added by the labor of the owner. This bill received scant attention at first but will now be given serious attention. Aside from the fact that the bill would increase the state's income about a million dollars, it would discourage large land holdings in the country which tend to discourage small farmers, and would make the man holding unimproved property in the city pay something for the increase in value which his neighbors' improvements and the community's growth add to it. The bill may be said to carry the two desirable features of the single-tax philosophy. The proponents of the bill which was drawn by Prof. J. R. Commons of the University, and whose chief sponsor is Director Nordman of the Division of Markets, hardly expect to get the measure through this session, but they are greatly pleased with the reception given to it.

Following the resignation of James Nevins as member of the conservation commission, the nomination of Bray Webster to succeed Mr. Nevins was confirmed by the senate this week Thursday. He will take office on May 1.

The Perry bill to increase tuition at the university to students from outside the state from $124.00 per year to $300.00 was laid to rest on Thursday. The bill was first amended to make the fee $500.00, and was then killed.

When the Dahl tax bill was being debated in the assembly, the suggestion by the author of the measure that it would, if defeated, become a campaign issue, was met promptly by the anti-administration leaders with the declaration that it would please them to have such an issue. This suggestion points to the more clearly defined cleavage between the administration forces and their opponents than has heretofore been noticeable. Dahl's threat on the one hand that the administration would force the issue in the next campaign, and Senator Skogmo's charge on the other side that the administration was playing politics with important measures, and not acting with sincerity, presage some further asperities before the close of the session.

THINGS MUSICAL

that in a dog case at Beverly he treated the dog as if he were a lion and the crabbed old squire with the consideration due a chief justice."

"He knows how to handle the English language," Samson observed.

"He got that by reading. He is the best read man at the American bar and the best Bible student. There's a lot of work about you, Joe, before you are a lawyer and when you're admitted success comes only of the capacity for work. Brougham wrote the peroration of his speech in defense of Queen Caroline nineteen times."

"I want to be a great orator," the boy exclaimed with engaging enthusiasm.

"Then you must remember that character is the biggest part of it," Honest Abe declared. "Great thoughts come out of a great character and only out of that. They will come even if you have little learning and none of the graces which attract the eye. But you must have a character that is ever speaking even when your lips are silent. It must show in your life and fill the spaces between your words. It will help you to choose and charge them with the love of great things that carry conviction."

"I remember when I was a boy over in Gentryville, a shaggy, plain-dressed man rode up to the door one day. He had a cheerful, kindly face. His character began to speak to us before he opened his mouth to ask for a drink of water."

"I don't know who you are," my father said. "But I'd like to know well if you'd light up talk to us. He did and we didn't know till he had gone that he was the governor of the state. A good character shines like a candle on a dark night. You can't mistake it. A thief can't hold his right long enough to compare with it."

Webster said in the Knapp matter: "There is no evil that we can not either face or fly from but the consciousness of duty disregarded."

"A great truth like that makes wonderful music on the lips of a sincere man. An orator must be a lover and discoverer of such unwritten laws. It was nearing midnight when they heard footsteps on the board walk in front of the house. In a moment Harry Needles entered in cavalry uniform with fine top boots and silver spurs, erect as a young Indian brave and bronzed by tropic suns."

"Hello!" he said as he took off his belt and clanking saber. "Hang up my sword, I have had enough of war. He had ridden across country from the boat landing and arriving so late had left his horse at a livery stable."

"I'm lucky to find you and Abe and Joe all up and waiting for me," he said as he shook their hands. "How is mother?"

Thomas Edison has patents on more than 300 inventions.

When the body is fed and sheltered, there remains to be satisfied the particular hunger of the heart," says Stuart P. Sherman. It is therefore most proper that American education should through its agents prepare not only for material comfort and success but should make possible the creation and expression of happiness as well. What better voice for the heart than music?

So quietly do the forces for musical development in La Crosse proceed among those most to be benefited, the children, that until some startling revelation such as the opera "Ermine" awakens us to the advance we are oblivious to the amazing progress being made. When Miss Trane presented to the public some seventy young people in one of the most ambitious as well as one of the most perfectly prepared amateur musical undertakings ever given in La Crosse she made such a revelation.

"Why," exclaimed one, "it's a real opera!" Real opera indeed! If real music makes a real opera, it was! There was the unfading sweetness of the chorus of voices which could swell to the richest of round tones and fall at the sign from their director to the faintest echo. Almost all of these voices were at the time she selected them, inexperienced and many of them rough, chosen for some native charm half hidden by misuse. To take so considerable a number of untrained voices to develop so creditable a company of singers is a real civic service.

Then there were the solo voices, young, unimpassioned but each pleasing in its way and all so full of promise. With scarcely an exception each voice was used with genuine intelligence, sign of the hours of thoughtful individual instruction which has been lavished on them. How beneficial a gift to these young singers is this careful training in the use of that precious instrument which will be giving them pleasure when the opera is long since only a vague memory. So it would seem that Miss Trane's real achievement is to be found not in the spectacular success of the two evenings' entertainment but in the more enduring success achieved through giving to young hearts a mode of expression. "Full of the common joy," says Donne. "I uttered some." How sad the plight of the one who has no way to voice that inward joy.

On Thursday of this week the kindergartens of the city will present "Mother Goose's Birthday," a little opera and

Also Sing will gain thereby the distinction of being the youngest contributors to musical progress in La Crosse. It will be given in the high school auditorium at two thirty o'clock, the mothers of the kindergarten children and the members of the school board being guests.

The little melodies are of the simplest, setting the familiar nursery rhymes, but the work of both choruses and soloists will be a surprise and a delight. The voices are tiny to be sure but indescribably sweet and true to pitch. There are several little soloists of unusual ability. Helen Krentz who sings "My Dear Children," John McKensie who sings "Peter, Peter Pumpkin Eater," Richard Roy who does "Boy Blue" and Helen Weigand and Beverly Berger who have a duet, "Mother Goose's Birthday."

The opera is in four parts, Part one is given by the Hamilton and Webster kindergartens with a group of third grade girls from the Hamilton school as Mother Goose and the Goose Girls. Several rhymes are dramatized and sung among them Tommy Tucker and "My Son John."

Part two is the concerted work of the Jefferson, Logan and Franklin kindergartens. Here the nursery rhymes dramatized entirely by the children are "The Little Pig" and "I Love a Tassie" and others. In part three the Washington, Washburn, Lincoln and Logan schools enact and sing such classics as "The Cat and the Fiddle" and "Little Boy Blue." The performance concludes with a group of songs by the entire chorus of kindergarten.

Two hundred little children are to sing in this miniature music drama which I believe is the first of its sort ever given here. The training and direction of the individual groups is in the charge of the kindergarten teachers, the co-ordination of the groups is under the joint management of Miss Prudence Curwright and Miss Stella Trane.

CATHERINE MUNSON IS THE BRIDE OF RALPH G. HINNERS

VIROQUA, Wis.—(Special.)—At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Nuzum, on Saturday, April 29, there took place the wedding of Miss Catherine Munson, youngest daughter of ex-Senator Oliver C. THIS is where you'll stop to get that new battery for your car—because you want a long-living, hard-hitting Storage Battery—a Columbia, of course.

"AN EARLY BIRD" IS CREDITABLY GIVEN BY SENIOR PUPILS

Miss Ada Olson and Joseph Humble are United in Marriage at Rushford Town

REISHFORD, Minn.—(Special)—When the curtain rose upon the play, "An Early Bird," put on by the seniors of 1921, last Friday evening, the young people upon the east found awaiting them one of the largest audiences that has ever greeted such an occasion.

As the members of the class had put their best efforts into their work and had been coached by two such excellent directors as Miss Helen Smith and Prof. Weid, the result was as might have been expected, a rousing success. Not a dull moment was allowed to creep in and while the scenes were being shifted and costumes changed, the high school orchestra, with its usual vim and vigor, rendered most excellent selections, under the direction of Miss Rosa Kaulson, instructor in music of our city schools. The cast of characters in the play was:

Corn Kilbuck, president of P. O. C. railway..... Raymond Eischen
Tony Kilbuck, his son, just out of college..... Vincent Miller
Barabuy Bird, boss of Plagg Co..... Howard Estor
Mr. Milberg, chief attorney for the road..... Inman Djerke
Bruce Ferguson, clerk in the general store..... Lewis Robertson
Artie, an office boy..... Ernest Haugberg
Perry Allen, a young gentleman farmer..... Ernest Haugberg
Jessamine Lee, the girl..... Jessamine Lee
Leona Schoonover
Mrs. Van Dyne, agent for the P. O. C. Esther Arzarn
Imogene McCarthy, stenographer..... Mildred Prizing
Mrs. Beavers, from Plagg Carriers..... Elvira Hassarud
Rosa Bella Beavers, belle of Plagg county..... Anna Eischen
Mrs. Perry Allen, Jessamine's cousin..... Tressa Cullane
Dilly, Mrs. Beaver's hired girl..... Myrtle Halvorson

The seniors expect to give the same play at Lewiston this week Friday evening.

At the home of Rev. O. M. Saeviz, the officiating minister, there was recently solemnized the marriage of Miss Ada Olson and Joseph Humble, two of Rushford's popular young people. The young folks were attended by Miss Allie Olson, a sister of the bride, and by Mr. Henry Quale, both being from Peterson, which place has also been the home of the bride. The

The latest figures compiled by the United States geological survey of the department of the interior show that the foreign countries are using only half as much petroleum as the United States, but have seven times as much oil in the ground.

These countries are now using about 200,000,000 barrels of oil yearly, but they have resources large enough to last more than 270 years at this rate of consumption. In striking contrast are the production figures for the United States, which at the present rate of more than 400,000,000 barrels a year has only an eighteen-year supply. In other words, the United States is using up its own oil supply fourteen times as fast as the rest of the world.

U. S. INVESTIGATION OF STEEL TRUST IS WELCOMED BY GARY

System of Base Prices Carried Out by Other Industries Also He Claims

NEW YORK, May 1.—(U. S. P. M.)—The U. S. investigation of the steel trust, which was announced yesterday by the Federal Trade Commission, is being welcomed by the steel industry. The commission has charged that the corporation and eleven of its subsidiaries had practiced unfair competition in interstate commerce through the system of selling at base prices.

"It is a mistake," he said, "to suppose the proceedings are directed against the United States Steel corporation or any other manufacturing concern. They involve a simple question to the Pittsburgh base, so-called."

Many, if not all other lines of industry, he said, carry out similar practices. These consist of establishing a system of base prices and prices. Except for rails, steels wherever made, is delivered under this system at the Pittsburgh base price, plus what the freight would have been from Pittsburgh to the delivery point. Pittsburgh is known as the basing point in the steel industry.

The complainants, who are western purchasers of steel, contend, Mr. Gary said, that Pittsburgh should not be the only basing point but others should be established in Chicago and perhaps other manufacturing points.

In Trempealeau county farm land and buildings were valued at $17,473,295 and in 1920, $17,267,075, an increase in 10 years of $1,792,780 or 11.43 percent. Farms operated by owners and managers numbered 2,609 in 1910 and 2,608 in 1920, a decrease of one farm. Tenant farmers increased from 399 in 1910 to 520 in 1920, or 32.8 per cent. The total farm acreage in 1910 was 451,101 and in 1920 it was 461,525, an increase of 2.3 percent. Improved acreage, increased from 290,775 in 1910 to 270,239 in 1920, or 3.6 percent. CHICAGO, Ill.—With the arrest of three persons here, one of them a woman, and one in Milwaukee, secret service operatives were confident that they had frustrated a conspiracy of a counterfeiters' ring to flood the northwest with bogus currency.

Those arrested here were Joseph Lippe, Mrs. Gertrude Lippe and John Brock. Steve Bonazak, alias Steve Tabbie, was arrested in Milwaukee yesterday by the police there upon advice of Captain Thomas L. Porter, of the secret service.

Two other men are being sought in Milwaukee. They are said to possess a complete set of plates for printing bogus bills.

TWO PLANS ARE PUT FORWARD AT MEETING OF SUPREME COUNCIL

is concerned, will await the outcome of the sessions of the supreme council at London.

The allied governments have been acquainted with the American point of view with regard to the general subject as a result of the conferences which Secretary Hughes has had with the diplomatic representatives of those governments. Briefly stated, this view is that Germany must pay to the limit of her ability but that the imposition of such terms as would prevent her economic recuperation should be guarded against.

This is in entire accord with the views of the allies, officials said Saturday, pointing out that Premier Lloyd George had repeatedly stated that Great Britain had no desire to crush Germany economically and that the future of British depended upon the recovery of Germany industry.

Events may so shape themselves, it was said, that a further move on the part of the United States would be unnecessary. Should the supreme council decide that the German proposals are of such a character as to form the basis for renewed discussions, it was explained that it would not be necessary for the United States to transmit the German offer to the allied governments as they already have received copies of it direct from Berlin.

May Suggest New Offer

If the supreme council decided, however, that the offer is unacceptable, even as a basis for negotiations, it is understood that some further move by the American government might be expected. What officials have in view in this event is carefully withheld. It is suggested, however, that since Germany already has indicated semi-officially a willingness to put forward modified proposals it may be that the United States will suggest such a course.

It had been thought that a reply to Germany would go forward by Saturday night by reason of the expected move of French troops into additional German territory Sunday. It is stated, however, that the adoption of these further measures to enforce the payment of the indemnity assessed against Germany would not close the door to further negotiations.

French Occupation Plans

MAYENCE.—By the Associated Press.—Plans for occupation of the Ruhr region (thus far perfected complete operations covering two days, according to French military authorities. The territory to be occupied, subject of course to decisions reached at the meeting of the supreme council in London, will extend to a line beginning at the confluence of the Wupper and Rhine rivers, running to the northeast, skirting and taking in the towns of Solingen, Elberfeld, Barnum, Hagen and Unna. From Unna the boundary of the new zone of occupation will extend northward to the Lippe river and thence in a northwesterly direction to Wesel, on the Rhine.

KEEP THEM BOTH IS RULING IN CASE OF MAN WITH 2 WIVES

Unusual Decision Handed Down by Federal Authorities in Akron, Ohio

AKRON, Ohio.—An unusual ruling under which Giuseppe Sarnola will be allowed to keep two wives, was handed down by Federal authorities and Akron police when Sarnola, accompanied by Wife No. 1 with a ten-year-old son, and Wife No. 2, a three-year-old boy and carrying a baby, appeared at police headquarters Friday. Sarnola married Wife No. 1 in Italy eleven years ago. Later he came to America. Four years ago he sent for her but due to the war, heard nothing and presumed she was dead. Then he met Wife No. 2, a Pennsylvania widow. She became his common law wife, he said. Two children were born.

Last week Mrs. Sarnola No. 1 and her son reached Akron on an immigration train. Sarnola hastened to meet them, his wives and children.

After an investigation federal authorities told Sarnola to take his wives home and support them. The wives agreed to love each other and live peacefully together. They left police headquarters in an arm.

"I love them both. They love each other. We all love. I keep them all. They say so," Sarnola said in broken English.

greed, and, unless arrested, it can come to no issue except the extermination of the Irish people. The sympathy of the American people is and should be with Ireland in this struggle. I am deeply concerned to know what we can do to make that sympathy effective.

There is only one way in which we can effectively express our sympathy for Ireland and that is by our vote on this resolution. This congress will not close without a test vote upon the issue of recognition of Irish independence.

Representing the Wisconsin Hemp Association, F. C. Miles of Union City, and A. H. Wright, of Madison, have been in Washington conferring with members of the delegation relative to the protection of the hemp industry in the state. They saw Representative James A. Fear, of Hudson, member of the house ways and means committee now framing a permanent tariff law. Mr. Fear turned them over to Representative Treadway, of Massachusetts, chairman of the subcommittee of the ways and means committee having to do with the tariff on hemp.

The contention of Wisconsin hemp growers is that they cannot compete with foreign producers whose basic costs are much lower. They desire particularly that they be given protection against importations from the Orient where labor is much cheaper than in this country.

Representative Joseph D. Beck met with the house committee on labor for the first time this week when it was organized under the chairmanship of Representative John I. Nolan, of California. Among the first measures which the committee will take up, Mr. Beck said, is the Nolan minimum wage bill which has been hanging fire in congress for some time.

Representative Edward Voigt, of Sheboygan, is meeting with the house agricultural committee of which he is again a member during consideration of bills for ending gambling in wheat. These measures are among several others of important political significance now before that committee. Another is the Kenyon-Kendrick bill for control of the packing industries. Mr. Voigt has strongly supported the latter measure.

The consideration of these measures is being watched closely in light of the president's declaration of "less government in business and more business in government." Business interests generally have opposed the packer control bill on the grounds that the control of the government should not be extended further into business.

Owing to the reparations situation, the house foreign affairs committee has postponed consideration of resolutions for disarmament, one of them having been offered by Representative Edward E. Bryans of Waukegan. Representative Henry Allen Cooper, of Racine, is also a member of that committee.

The majority of the Wisconsin delegation is looked to for vigorous support of disarmament. Senator La Follette is expected to oppose the expenditure of $90,000,000, as proposed in the naval appropriation bill now before the house, for the continuation of the 1916 naval building program.

WORK OF WESTERN ENTRANTS FEATURE OF RELAY CARNIVAL

Illinois Takes Four-mile Event and Badger Wins Pole Vault; Runners in New Record

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—Remarkable athletic performances by western athletes were the outstanding features of the final day of the twenty-seventh annual relay carnival of the University of Pennsylvania staged on Franklin field Saturday afternoon. On a water-soaked track and turf, with a chilling wind sweeping the field, athletes from the middle section of the country won a number of important competitions.

Of the more important college championship races, Illinois captured the four mile event after a steady race which caused both Cornell and Princeton runners to falter under the strain. The Cedar Rapids High school relay team won both the mile high school championship and the two-mile interscholastic titular run.

In the individual contests, Weiss of Illinois won the discus throw; Osborne of Illinois tied with Chamberlain of Virginia, Alberts of Illinois and Murphy of Notre Dame tied in the high jump at 6 feet 2-3/4 inches and on the loss for place won prizes in the order named.

Merrick of Wisconsin tied with Gardner of Yale in the pole vault at 12 feet 6 inches and first place on the toss, while two of the next three places also went to western runners. Sandefer of the University of Kansas, won first place in the shotput and was second to Weiss in the discus. Brede of Illinois was second in the javelin throw and Wright of Nebraska second in the twelve hurdles and Paul of Grinnell, second in the 100 yard dash.

Notwithstanding the heavy track, the Iowa State quartette of half mile runners, led by Ames, which established a new American record of 7:52.2-7 for two miles at the Drake relays, Des Moines, last week, forced Yale to run with four-fifths of a second of the old record of 7:53 to win today in what was the best and most thrilling of all the championship events. This contest was in doubt until the final dash for the tape, and during the entire two miles the lead changed in frequent and sensational manner.

Eastern athletes were not without their share of glory however, for in addition to the remarkable race run and won by the Yale four in the two-mile event, Boston college sprang a surprise by winning the Class B one mile college championship. Pennsylvania Freshmen captured the one-mile relay for first year men, and Syracuse led the way home in the one-mile titular race.

Boulder of Pennsylvania, hurled the javelin for a new carnival record of 183 feet 1-4 inch in winning first place. Farrell of Brooklyn college won the 100-yard dash in 10.2-5 on a heavy track. Earl Thompson of Dartmouth, Olympic champion and record holder, won the 120 hurdles on grass in 14.5-5 seconds. Gordon of Harvard won the broad jump, making 23 feet 10-1/2 inches.

The performance of the University of Paris runners, who afforded the annual international aspect and interest to the relays this season, was not particularly impressive.

PREDICT SALE OF DAKOTA BONDS IN EASTERN CITIES

BISMARCK, N. D.—William Lemke, attorney general of North Dakota, Saturday night expressed confidence that at least $8,000,000 of the bonds of the state will be sold in the east within the next ninety days. He has just returned from a tour of the eastern cities, where he went to arrange for the sale of the bonds. Branch offices of the Bank of North Dakota have been established in New York and Chicago. Mr. Lemke said, and volunteer committees have undertaken the marketing of the bonds in Boston, Washington, Detroit, Cincinnati, Toledo, and Indianapolis.

MILES CITY PAPER OUT OF BUSINESS

Suspends Publication Because of Adverse Conditions Affecting Printing Trade

MILES CITY, MONT.—Suspension of the Evening Montanan with the issue of Saturday, was announced by the Independent Printing company, of which J. D. Scanlan is the head, and which company also publishes the Daily Morning Star.

In announcing the suspension, Mr. Scanlan attributed the necessity therefore to demands for an ever-increasing wage scale by compositors culminating in the demand for a 44-hour week. Seven members of the Independent company's force will be affected by the suspension.

"To meet the new demands of the printers," said Mr. Scanlan, "would require an increase in advertising rates which the advertisers could not afford. Suspension of the evening paper was therefore considered the best of the alternative courses that presented themselves."

In lieu of the Evening Montanan, a midnight mail edition of the Daily Star will be issued.

During the storm Monday a cyclone destroyed an 80 foot cattle barn on Lee Miller's place south of here. At Lee Miller's no buildings were in its path, but it uprooted several trees and then jumped across the road to Walter Saberson's property where it moved his new corn crib off its foundation.

The track team of the local high school is diligently training for participation in the Cedar Valley Field Meet and Athletic Instructor Leschensky anticipates a good showing by the Waukon sprinters.

Typesetting Machines in Palestine
The inauguration of typesetting machines at the office of the Palestine Daily Mail not long ago, was made a great social event by the presence of a very distinguished party and the streets around the office were thronged by natives watching the arrival and departure of guests. These are the first machines of this character in that country.

French Are Eating Polecats
In France on account of the scarcity of meat, the people are eating the flesh of animals which have been heretofore regarded as desirable for furs only. These include polecats and foxes. The Prefect of Police in Paris has issued a circular warning the people against eating these animals as it often happens that they are killed by poison. Estimates place the number of catfish in the United States at about 65,000,000.

A Friend O' Yours

Haven't you ever been in a room where the comfy chairs fairly begged you to rest and the bright draperies and restful walls opened up new vistas of contentment for you? Just like a charming hostess, it was, gay with a won't-you-larry-awhile air! From the soft velvety rugs to the jolly pillow bedecked lounge, it was suggestive of rest and order.

How can one ever permit a room like that to lose, even the tiniest degree of its charm? Rugs, draperies, pillows, upholstery, linens, all household accessories, when properly cared for, will live long and their beauty be preserved.

Fail to give them the necessary attention and, like flowers, they droop and fade.

Your household cleansing problems are ours, our cleansing service yours. Expert inspection marks every article that leaves our plant.

FORMER LA CROSSE WOMAN LICENSED AS A MINISTER IN RIVERSIDE, CALIFORNIA

Mrs. Stella B. Irvine, wife of Lewis B. Irvine, Sunday school work, and her training in Riverside, Cal., and former resident of La Crosse, is the second woman licensed as a pastor in the Methodist church in California.

Word of the distinction accorded Mrs. Irvine has been received by her aunt, Mrs. J. C. Morrison, 927 Cedar street. Mrs. Irvine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Blanchard, who for many years lived in the 1300 block of Avon street, graduated from the La Crosse high school in the 70's. Stella and Belle Blanchard, twins, who so closely resembled each other that their own relatives had difficulty in telling them apart, were popular in this city during their childhood and young womanhood, when they resided here.

After the marriage of Stella Blanchard and Lewis Irvine, they located in California, where the latter prospered as representative of an eastern outfit firm, and Mrs. Irvine interested herself in the work of the W. C. T. U.

For twenty years Mrs. Irvine had a national office in this organization and for five years she served as president of the California state organization. She has been prominent for years in church activities, especially

Archaeological Treasures From Lakes
Owing to a scarcity of water the level of some of the lakes of Switzerland is lower than at any previous time of which there is any record and the exposed bottoms are giving up some valuable archaeological treasures. On the shores of Lake Neuchâtel there have been discovered a number of piles which indicate that at one time, probably as early as the first century of the Christian era, that there was a city on the edge of the body of water largely, if not entirely, built upon piles. Some valuable specimens of crockery have been found and the hulks of a number of ancient boats have been revealed.

TOWN ALTERS NAME

But Paper Refuses, So Town Gets No Publicity

YORK, S. C.—Six years ago, following a political fight, the name of this town, established in 1798, was changed from Yorkville to York. The Yorkville Enquirer, country newspaper, opposed the change, and refused to accept it. The staff was given instructions to use Yorkville in the news columns. As a result Yorkville gets more publicity than York. The management of the newspaper also refuses to accept checks made in favor of "The York Enquirer," as sometimes occurs.

Machine Weaves Baskets
Marshall B. Lloyd, of Menominee, Mich., is responsible for the invention of a machine for weaving the wicker work of baby cradles and similar articles. It was all hand work, actually requiring one day for a skilled weaver to weave one baby cradle. The machine is extremely simple, can be operated by an ordinary man with no skill required and weaves just 30 times more fabric than the best hand expert can weave. When the body has been woven the top of the machine is raised and the article taken off. The top and bottom ends of the wove are bent over by hand and the carriage is completed.

The Pettibone park commission has had erected in the beautiful island park donated to the city by the late A. W. Pettibone a large concrete base on which will rest a huge granite boulder obtained in an eastern Wisconsin quarry last fall for a monument in memory of Mr. Pettibone. The rock will be placed directly in front of the pavilion, in the middle of the elevator driveway. The problem of getting the big boulder, which weighs twenty tons, across the river, is still perplexing. Park Superintendent George Ritter and other officials. They know that a steamboat and government barge will be required to convey the rock across the Mississippi, but a favorable surge of water, a small army of men and a few other things will be required in addition to the steamer and barge, to complete the transfer and get the monument safely placed on the base where it

The Air Seems to Be Safe

In a single year, England's air service carried 70,000 passengers and but one accident occurred in which there was an injury. This is a remarkable record, and proves that passengers are being carried through the air with all danger of accident practically eliminated. Germany has also been making some fine records with her commercial and passenger fliers, and the number of routes being operated daily totals into a considerable number.

MERELY OWNING

does not lend any particular distinction to the owner. Today, an automobile forms part of the equipment of every modern home. Those of good taste, choose exclusive homes of marked individuality. Their automobile should be chosen in the same manner.

There is an air of distinction about the Mitchell for 1921. Every owner will take pride in its attractive and exclusive lines. If you intend to purchase a new car this season, it behooves you to see what we sincerely believe to be the finest automobile on the market in its price field.

Why
Chalmers knows
The NEW EDISON
gives his true voice

BECAUSE he has compared his voice with its RE-CREATION by the New Edison. Because thousands of people have heard this comparison. Because no one distinguished any difference between his living voice and his RE-CREATED voice.

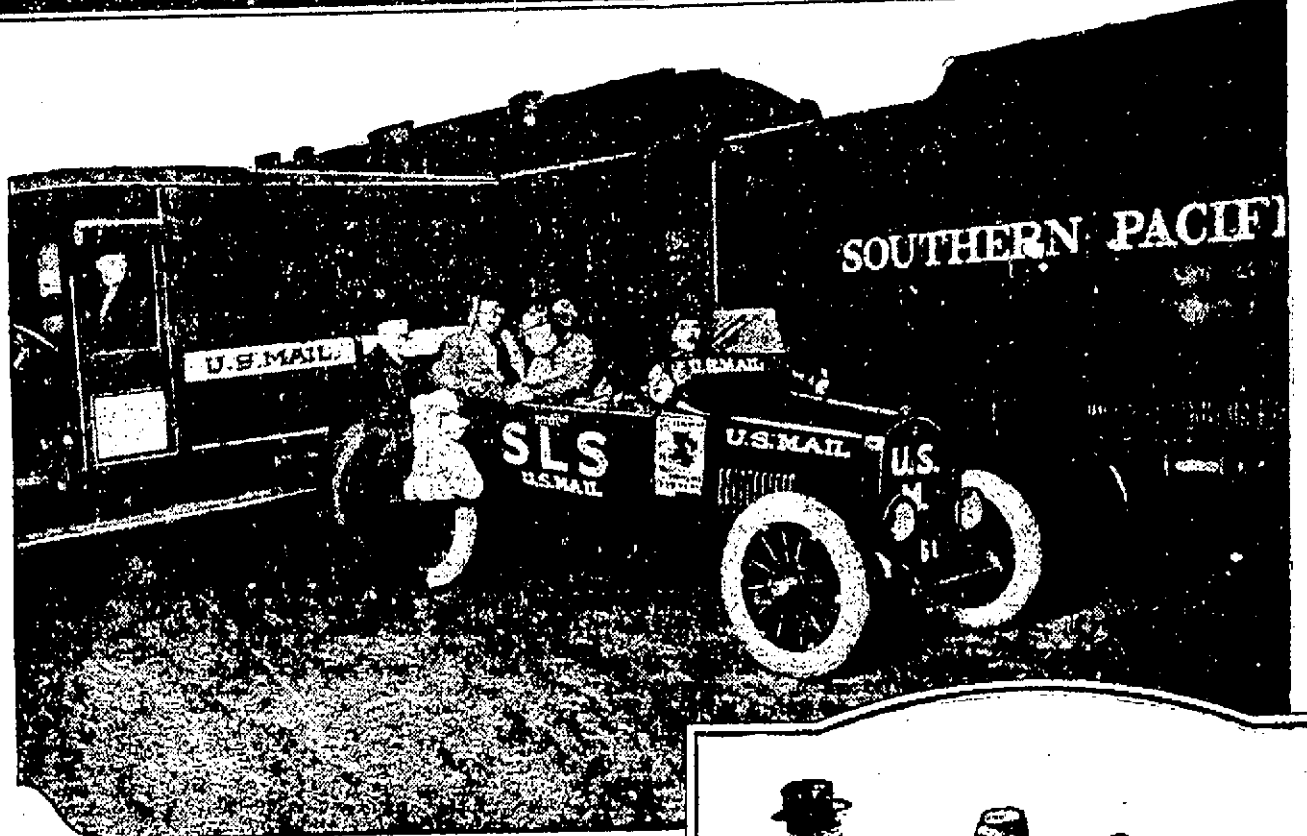

Don't take the statement of an artist that a phonograph gives his true voice. See whether that phonograph can sustain the comparison-test. If it can't, you know that such phonograph does not give you the artist's true voice, but merely a mechanical version of its own. Think about these things! Then remember that the New Edison does sustain the comparison test, that it is the only phonograph which sustains the comparison test; and that we are always glad to prove this to you.

If you love music, your credit is good here. You can arrange your payments on a gentleman's agreement.

LIGHT-SIX

SMASHES RECORDS!

Carrying U. S. Mail, a Studebaker LIGHT-SIX has established four speed records between San Francisco and Los Angeles—traveling faster than any automobile or train ever made the trips before—and proving LIGHT-SIX stamina!

Here is what the LIGHT-SIX did:

- Made the round trip from San Francisco to Los Angeles, 864.8 miles, in 21 hours 23 minutes elapsed time—a new record.
- Made the one-way trip over the Coast Route, 453.7 miles, in 10 hours 12 minutes 30 seconds elapsed time—a new record.
- Made the one-way trip over the Valley Route, 411.1 miles, in 9 hours 15 minutes 50 seconds elapsed time—a new record.
- Beat "The Lark," fastest express train between San Francisco and Los Angeles, by 3 hours 47 minutes 30 seconds—a new record.

This car was duly deputized, upon orders from Washington, to carry U. S. Mail.

These remarkable records—this exhibition of speed and stamina—prove how the Studebaker New LIGHT-SIX can make long-continued runs without mechanical trouble—the car established its records on two trips, and was ready to start on the second immediately after completing the first.

You can have the advantage of its motor's wonderful gasoline economy and the satisfaction of its smoothness of operation only by owning a Studebaker LIGHT-SIX. We are ready to demonstrate and make deliveries.

The Town Must Move
In connection with the construction of the American Falls reservoir on the Snake River in Idaho, legislative authority has been given to purchase, condemn and improve land for a new town site to replace the portion of the town of American Falls which will be flooded by the new reservoir. The project calls for a 90-foot dam, which would impound 3,000,000 acre-feet and make available for irrigation the entire water resources of the Snake River.

CHESTERTON ON IRISH
Says English-Irish Nationalism Is Source of Trouble
NEW YORK.—The agonizing quarrel between England and Ireland has been due to the fact that both the Irish and the English are intensely nationalistic, and that one knows it and the other doesn't, says Gilbert K. Chesterton, noted English writer.

"Recognition of this fact would make possible a reconciliation between England and Ireland," he adds. "Whatever England has done toward Ireland—however stupid and wicked it may have been—has been done from a higher or lower sense of patriotism."

"England is suspicious of Ireland because of England's intense nationalism. One of the chief difficulties in the solution of the Irish problem is the fear that Ireland may be used as a base of attack by some alien enemy. When it is realized that all England wishes is self-protection, the position of England will be better understood throughout the world.

"Ireland has been put down again, and again and always she has risen up. She probably will be put down again and again in the future, but she will always rise up."

Guilty
A youth once loved a modern miss; well versed in law was she; she charged him when he stole a kiss with petit larceny.

A moment he was quite abashed and then he squeezed her hand. "You're wrong, quite wrong, dear," he replied. "Not petit. That was grand."

How She Deals with a corn

Doctors and nurses do not suffer corns.

They do not pare corns, for they know it is dangerous.

They use no treatments harsh and out-of-date.

What they do is this:

At the first sign of a corn they use Blue-jay—the liquid or the plaster.

The corn pain stops. In a little while the whole corn loosens and comes out.

They know that Blue-jay is a scientific treatment. It is gentle, yet sure.

It is made by a surgical dressing house which every doctor knows.

Blue-jay is removing not less than 20 million corns a year.

It is keeping multitudes of people completely free from corns.

The method is right. It is easy. Its results are prompt and pleasant. Watch its action on one corn.

Get it now.

DO YOU KNOW THE FACTS ABOUT BUILDING COSTS?

Do you know that lumber and building materials are down?
Have you talked to us lately about building?
Do you know how reasonably you can make needed repairs, build your new home, or remodel your old one? Better get in touch with the situation at once.

The big building program that was expected in 1920 failed to develop. The manufacturers were caught with too large stocks, and were forced to turn them over at almost cost.

We can show you a substantial saving on every item in our line.

But it's only fair to tell you this condition may be only temporary. The country is short more than a million homes. Our own city is short many homes. When people begin to do this long delayed building, demand will increase rapidly, creating another shortage of materials, and prices will advance again.

If you are planning to build, remodel, or repair, let us give you figures

REO SPEED WAGON

Proven Range of Usefulness Of This Reo Is Simply Amazing

Seems as if there's no limit to the versatility—the adaptability—of this Reo Speed Wagon.

Its field of usefulness is constantly widening—and lengthening.

Just when we have come to believe that its greatest efficiency and economy is in delivering over short routes, with frequent stops in city service—comes news of 500 to 1000 mile trips in which the Speed Wagon "distances" all others.

Seems as if there's no kind of carrying service that it won't do—and do better.

"From a hearse to a hurry-up wagon";—

For passenger busses—and the heaviest of freight;—

In the country it carries live loads of stock—cattle, horses, sheep, hogs—or "dead" loads of produce and garden truck—all with equal facility;—

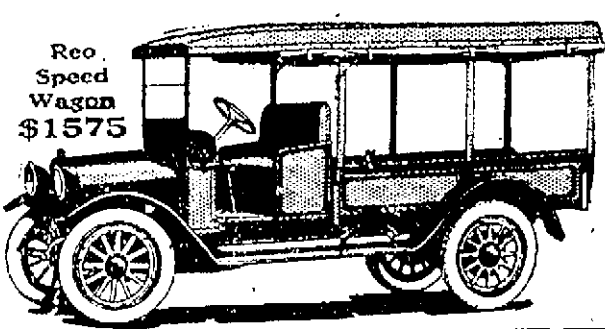

For highly specialized service, where fragile materials must be safely delivered—and for the rough-and-tumble work of the farm, or the city warehouse;—

It doesn't seem to matter what you demand of this sturdy Reo, it always proves equal to the work.

And in every class of service—city, suburban or rural—the saving is tremendous and the satisfaction is supreme.

ture at the Majestic, La Crosse, used to be a lumberjack center, and "Man's Desire" is a lumberjack story with the back on. It is the story of Tom Denton, who is played by Lewis Stone. The "desire" of Tom Denton was a normal, healthy and manly craving — to make a good woman happy. Tom had other desires, too, which were more or less praiseworthy. One was to "get" the scoundrel who had killed his brother in cold blood and had terrorized the girl Tom wished to make happy, into a compulsory marriage.

Tom Denton was a "straight shooter" in everything. He played square with his partner whose wife tried to snub him. He played square with the girl whose brute of a husband mistreated her. He was a "straight shooter" — and a fast one — when he came up with "Bull" Larkin and "got" him with his shooter.

It's a high-pressure drama, with Lewis S. Stone in a role that gives him plenty to do, and he does it in a snappy way. Stone himself wrote the play.

"RED FOAM" TO OPEN RUN AT RIVIERA TODAY

Ralph Ince's production, "Red Foam," is announced for the first presentation in La Crosse at the Riviera Sunday. It will be shown at the grand Monday and Casino Tuesday and Wednesday.

The story, by William H. Hambro, created a great popularity for the author when it appeared in the Saturday Evening Post. "Red Foam" deals with the people of a typical small Missouri town. Its characters are all true to life and not caricatures. Harry Tishie, in the role of a philanthropic traveling salesman, is said to have created a part that will stand for a long time as one of the most original and true-of-life portrayals seen on the screen. The story derives its title from the attitude of the people in the story whose blood boils up and the real foam of passion comes to the surface, owing to a series of most dramatic incidents which culminate in a climax of whirlwind ferocity.

"A CHILD FOR SALE"

AT RIVIERA TWO DAYS
"A Child for Sale," a powerful drama, setting forth the evils of prostitution, will be the attraction at the Riviera Monday and Tuesday. Strand on Wednesday and Casino Thursday and Friday.

The story is laid in the Greenwich village section of New York City, where Charles Stoddard, a struggling painter, strives to earn a livelihood for his wife and two children. His home is owned by William Harrison, a wealthy philanthropist, who while he gives with one hand gives higher rents from the poor tenants with the other. Stoddard's wife dies, and he is forced to sell his baby daughter to a wealthy widow, but the pain of the separation is too great and he obtains his little girl back. In the meantime Stoddard's little boy is picked up on the streets for begging and is taken to Harrison's protectory. There his father comes for him and a stormy scene ensues when Stoddard upbraids the hypocritical philanthropist. When little Ruth contracts scarlet fever, a kind-hearted doctor brings the little boy to the Harrison home. There Mrs. Harrison questions him, learns that Stoddard is her son by a former marriage which she kept secret from her husband. The story comes to a thrilling climax when Stoddard saves the life of his landlord, and Mrs. Harrison tells her husband of her long hidden secret.

FIFTH NEW RECORD SET BY STUDEBAKER ON PACIFIC COAST

With four records already to its credit this year, a Studebaker Light Six hung up a fifth recently, when it plowed its way from Los Angeles, California, to Phoenix, Arizona, in 13 hours 16 minutes over roads that were often nothing more than deeply rutted sand trails.

Up to the time the Light Six made its run, the fastest automobile time for the 422 miles from Los Angeles to Phoenix was 17 hours 44 minutes. The time ordinarily made by tourists between the two cities is two days. The railroad time is 14 hours 20 minutes or one hour and four minutes slower than the time made by the Light Six.

SUNDAY TO OPEN BEACH-JONES CO. AT "BIG HOUSE"

Well-liked Stock Company Re-sumes in La Crosse With "That Girl Patsy" as Opener

"That Girl Patsy" the initial offering of the Beach-Jones Stock Company at the La Crosse Theatre, commencing Sunday afternoon, is one of those rare combinations of comedy, melodrama, suspense and a very pretty love story which goes to make a real dramatic success. This play has proven one of the most successful hits, and one of the greatest box office attractions of recent years and gives Miss Elida Sitzer, "The Little Redhead," the very best part she has had during the past season, even excelling the excellent interpretations she gave in "The Trail" and "Peg O' My Heart."

Every member of the company has a strong part in this bill and are admirably adapted to their abilities. Several new faces will be seen with the company since their recent engagement.

Slim Greenloh Glad to Greet LaCrosse Again

"Slim" Greenloh, the saxophone comedian who was with the Beyerstedt orchestra when that aggregation of musicians first delighted La Crosse makes his home today again after a long time away from home. "Slim" is scheduled for a specialty at the Riviera theatre this Sunday to signalize his return, and he predicts it will be worth hearing.

"My heart's in it," said the jany "Slim," on Saturday. "This is more like home to me than any place I ever have been in. For real sociable people give me La Crosse. Tell 'em all merry Christmas and happy Fourth of July for me, huh?"

"Slim" has been on tour with a jazz band of his own—the "Twenty-first Century Boys," doing cabaret, hotel and theatre stuff all over the south. He has been playing engagements in Chicago, Memphis, New Orleans, Dallas and St. Louis among others. And he bunched this job and turned down another good one to come back to the Beyerstedts.

"They wanted me to join up with the Virks Novelty Band, which makes all the nutty jazz records for the phonograph, but I didn't like New York. Anyhow, that bunch has nothing on the Beyerstedts," said "Slim."

VARIED PHOTOPLAY AND VODVIL BILL AT RIVIERA TODAY

A well-balanced program of vaudeville acts will be presented at the Riviera Sunday, the second week of the Marcus Loew attractions at the north side theatre. Song and music predominate. The Spanish trio, Castilian mariamba experts, offer popular and standard numbers on these instruments that are becoming more popular than ever before. Leon Toome presents a novelty ventriloquist act that has a turn that is just a little different from anything ever seen here. The Missethorn's Song Birds, one man and three women, in "A Morning in the Alps" bring a singing act to the city that has not been excelled in many months. They have excellent voices and have a pleasing selection of well known songs. Mabel Harper and company—they are called "The Furburnas of Vaudeville"—have a snappy program of comedy songs and piano selections. Kenny Mason and School offer an extraordinary roller skating act. The feature picture is the Ralph Lee production, "Red Foam," from the story of the same name in the Saturday Evening Post. It is a drama of the lives of two men and a woman in a small town and ends in a tense, gripping climax. The comedy, "His Fearful Finish," also is on the program. The Riviera orchestra, under the direction of Chas. of popular hits.

Fun and Music For Majestic's Vodvil Fans

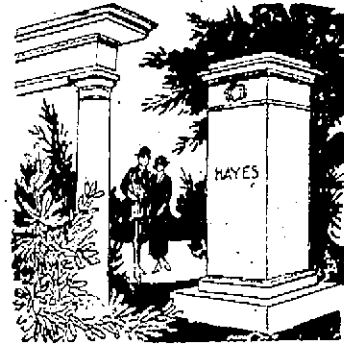

In addition to the pictures at the Majestic this week there will be two acts of high-grade vaudeville every day, Sunday's bill being a one-chance opportunity. If you don't see it Sunday you'll miss it, because it won't be there again. Lester and Vincent, a neat-appearing young couple, headline with comedy singing and talking. They are said to have what is referred to as a "good line"—if you know what that means. They are backed up by the Jack Howard Trio, who are broad funmakers of the knockabout sort, who handle the humorous song and the merry jest with neatness and dispatch, which is sure to raise the interest of any audience.

For Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the Majestic patrons will be favored with four pretty girls in a study of harmony. They play brass and string instruments, and one of the big moments of their act is a lightful combination of piano, cello and corners. The young women are artistic performers, winsome to look at and have pleasing personalities—in all a splendid vaudeville offering.

On the bill with the Hamei Musical Misses—that's the girls above—is Ed Ames, a monologist with a lot of genuine material. Ed is a specialist in the jokes with the delayed explosion—that clever kind that makes your mind work. He is said, also, to be as good at singing as at jokes.

Paint Creates Prosperity

Save the Surface and You Save All.

The "run down" house (there is one near you) is fast going to ruin merely because the owner wisely neglects to keep it protected with paint.

It costs more not to paint than to paint. Paint saves the surface and protects the building from sun, rain, frost and varying weather conditions that bring destruction.

Prosperity demands the protection of all exposed surfaces with good paint.

ACME QUALITY HOUSE PAINT

gives lasting protection and beauty. It costs less because it takes less and lasts longer. Call at our store and let us show you color samples and assist you in selecting the proper color combinations that will make your house appear to the best advantage.

HOME RUN BY SHANKS WINS FOR THE SENATORS

Moore Develops Wild Streak After Fifth Inning

DETROIT, Mich.—Detroit staged a battling rally in the eighth Saturday, making three runs and winning from St. Louis, 7 to 5. After Detroit had gained a four-run lead in the first three innings by hitting Schooner for five runs in the fifth, St. Louis scored three runs in the sixth. Score: St. Louis, 5; Detroit, 7. Batteries: Moore, Bayne and Severid; Middleton and Bassler, Ainsmith.

Senators of Philadelphia 5 PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—Shanks' clutch drive into the bleachers with two men on bases by virtue of singles in the seventh inning gave Washington a six to five victory over Philadelphia Saturday. Moore pitched good ball until the fifth when he developed a wild streak and was succeeded by Perry. Score: Washington, 6; Philadelphia, 5. Batteries: Moore, Bayne and Severid; Middleton and Bassler, Ainsmith.

Indians 4; Sox 3 CHICAGO, Ill.—Chicago and Cleveland battled 12 innings Saturday, the world's champions losing on the heels in the final rally and winning, 4 to 3. After Cleveland had tied the score in the seventh, the two teams battled on even terms until the twelfth when Kere weakened and the visitors scored three times by hitting three hits, with a base on balls and two sacrifices. Chicago came back strong in their half of the inning and drove Maile off the mound, but fell shy one run from tying the score. Score: Cleveland, 4; Chicago, 3. Batteries: Maile, Bagby and O'Rourke; Nunnaker, Kerr and Schalk.

NIGHT CASTING

The bait-caster who derives great pleasure from casting the weedy waters in the early morning, when the bass are on the feed, and who thinks he has reached the ultimate in the bait-casting sport has a lot of fun casting to him when he gets into the night-casting game. At night, when the bass are feeding, they make sport out of it and flop around in the water like a gang of kids in the old swimming hole. Schools of bass will chase the fishermen into the shallow waters, the little fellows making the surface in an effort to evade the snapping jaws following them close behind the bass with a speedy dash coming right out of the water in pursuit of the escaping feed.

As the day meets the night, and darkness comes creeping over the water, no doubt you have often heard the splash of the big bass as the tipped surface. That was the time to slip into the boat and let it drift out among them, casting your plugs out in the vicinity of the latest splash. When the bass strike at night there is considerable more thrill to landing them than in the more prosaic daylight hunt. You know by the kicking fight that you have a big old fighter on the business end of the line, but until you slip the net under him you never know whether you had him or not.

There is a lot of guesswork in making the cast, you don't know just what distance to give. The lure must you do a little right, fishing, after which your sense of distance is governed by the sound of the splashing fish. This, however, does not bother you at all, as you probably will get a smashing strike from a bass any way whether you connect with the one you really cast for or not. When they are feeding at night it seems that the whole bass family are out in a crowd and you get the strike whether you want it or not.

TIGER CATCHER IS MIND READER

BY DEAN SNYDER

Johnny Bassler, rookie catcher of the Chicago Tigers, uses mental telepathy in his baseball.

His uncanny ability to outguess batters and base-runners and cross them up has stamped him as a genuine California jewel.

Already he is being mentioned in the same class with Ray Schalk of the White Sox, Steve O'Neill of the Indians and Ralph Perkins of the Athletics.

And that is the most select class of catchers in the majors today.

While Georges Capotier was credited with the hypnotic eye to win his knuckouts Bassler uses his inherent knack to assist in piling up strikeouts and putouts.

Nips Base Runners

In a recent game against the White Sox the Tiger rookie cut down four of Kid Gleason's runners on the paths.

Three of these were the result of Bassler outguessing Chicago on the hit-and-run play.

The hit-and-run play is always the thorn in the catcher's path.

When properly executed this play is figured to be almost invincible.

It is the catcher's job to prevent it.

CIRCULAR GRAND STAND TO BE CONSTRUCTED AT NORTH SIDE BALL PARK

Permission to build a grand stand with an estimated seating capacity of 12,000 fans extending in a circle behind home plate from first to third base has been granted the Nelson Clothing company baseball club by the local park commission, according to announcement made by officials of the club on Saturday.

Work on the construction of the stands will start some time during the week and it is expected that the erection will be completed in time for the opening game of the team in the city on May 15 when the Waukegan Peoria chain ball club, formerly known as the Winona Pirates, come here.

Necessary funds used in connection with the construction of the stands when completed, having an estimated valuation of $2,500, will be donated to the city of La Crosse through the board of park commissioners. It is announced that the improvement at the north side ball park includes wiring netting in front of the stands for the protection of the spectators. The diamond has been replatted and base-lines are at present undergoing improvement.

May Games Announced

Although the arrangement of the schedule for the entire season is practically completed, the games announced to date include the two Winona dates on the May 8 and 15 and in addition the club has arranged for two contests with the Genoa aggregation. The local club meets the downriver nine on their home grounds May 22, while on May 29, the Genoa club, featuring "Lefty" Sullivan on the mound, formerly of the Chicago White Sox, comes here for the second home game of the season.

Old Players Back

That the Nelson club will again be a strong contender in this section of the state is the expectation of the host of supporters of the team when it is announced that with few exceptions all members of the 1920 aggregation are identified with the team this season. The following list as announced by the governing board of the club, have declared themselves as members of the Nelson Clothing company baseball club: Art Thayer, "Katz" Pitzer, "Ducky" Smith, Larry Schuler, "Garry" Wall, "Rocky" Solberg, Elmer Franz, A. Meyers, "Red" Dwyer, "Bud" Swenson, "Lefty" Demack (the Klondike) and Bob Hitter. Meyers was formerly with the Hayes Manufacturing company team at Detroit.

LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL HAS PRODUCED MANY STELLAR ATHLETES

Many Names on Roster of Successful Athletic Coaches Receiving Early Training Here

That the local high school has been an incubator for a large number of athletes who have left the school and are now occupying positions as successful athletic coaches is certain in view of the reports which have come back to this city with regard to the work of the men who received their early training at La Crosse high school and the normal school. Following are a few local high school men now out coaching.

Thomas McDonough, a former student of the La Crosse high and the normal school, is now physical director of the high school at Burlington, Indiana. He coached the basketball team through a very successful season, winning seventeen games and losing nine. Last fall Thurston had a football team for the first time, but Tommy made it a winner, copping but majority of games.

There are many other La Crosse high graduates coaching successful teams. Art Denny, basketball star at both the high and normal schools, is coaching the high school at Neenah, Wis. Otto Andres is coaching the Capital City athletes at Madison. Tom Skemp is at St. Marys at Wisconsin. Art Strum has just completed a successful coaching term at Oshkosh Normal. Tom Gibson is located at Oshkosh, and Pearl Saubert, a normal man, coached the Waukegan high team that defeated the La Crosse high basketball quartet at the state tournament at Madison this year.

"Alse" Miller is coaching at Milwaukee. Gerald Gibson is somewhere in Wyoming, and "Mucky" Byers is out in New York state. Tubby Keeler, coach of the local normal, and former coach of the University of Wisconsin football star, is also a product of the Red and Black.

Many Fisherman Forth To Cast Hook For Trout

With the opening of the trout fishing season at twelve o'clock tonight, many local anglers, who make it a point to be on hand early, are to be found working up some distant stream at the present time.

Several excursions have been organized during the past week in view of the opening day on Sunday. The "first trip" has been the main issue of many an angler as he went about his business during the past week and two weeks. He has thought and dreamed about the occasion like the neighborhood youngster who can hardly wait the coming of Baranum and Bailey.

ST. JAMES SLUGGERS RIM NEWS PEDDLERS

The St. James school baseball team defeated the News boys in a double header Friday afternoon by the score of 18 to 16 and 19 to 10. Tomham featured in the contest as a home run slugger, clubbing out two of them in the game. Frank Hender also drove out a decent clout.

LINCOLN SCHOOL DEFEATS WASHBURN

The Lincoln school baseball team was victorious in another game on Friday when the aggregation defeated the Washburn sluggers by a score of 17 to 14. Batteries: Lincoln—Odoard, Burrows and Kneel; Washburn—Olson and Odoard.

DIAMOND BASEBALL TEAM OPENS SEASON WITH GOOSE TOWNERS

Management of Diamond Team Desires Games With Out-of-Town Baseball Clubs

Opening the season with their regular schedule of games, the Diamond baseball club Sunday meets the Goosetown aggregation at Normal field.

The Diamond club, composed of young amateurs in the city, is starting on its second successful year and bids fair to be among the strongest contenders of the teams in the city of Normal. Capt. N. A. Ringquist states that the schedule is open for games with teams outside of the city.

Including the date Sunday with the Goosetown aggregation the team has four successive games scheduled. The games are as follows: May 1, Goosetown; May 8, Browns; May 15, Riveries; May 22, Dakota at Dakota.

WILLYS-KNIGHT

Improves with use

The Motor With Second Wind

In the ordinary poppet-valve motor deterioration sets in in the first mile.

In the famous Willys-Knight Sleeve-Valve Motor deterioration is postponed indefinitely. So perfect are its basic principles that it actually improves with use up to 50,000 miles.

Up to that point its upkeep is negligible. Sometimes it is nil. And after that point is reached, it is then ripe and ready for years and years of faithful performance, and remains an economical car to the end of its days.

ABILITY OF VANISHING BIRD

The fear is expressed of the extinction of the long-tailed tit from the English countryside. The bird builds a nest which is perhaps the most wonderful in the world. To begin with, it is elastic-sized, so as to allow for expansion as the family grows. It is shaped like a large pocket or purse, seven inches long by four across, and so covered with lichens that often it matches the tree wherein it is set. But the chief wonder is the number of feathers, from which the bird is named "feather-pole." There were over 2,000 feathers in the nest found. The count had to be abandoned, as so many were intermingled. Yet this artistic home is built in a fortnight.

When an adverb or adverbial phrase is inserted between "to" and the infinitive, as "to readily see," this construction is not considered good English. As a sign of the possessive, "of" may be the equivalent of the apostrophe "s," or it may be used with the apostrophe "s" in a somewhat different meaning, thus: "A saying about Wilson," while "A saying of Wilson's" would be "one of Wilson's sayings," meaning one out of his numerous sayings. The English language avoids the use of the genitive sign "of" whenever possible, preferring the apostrophe with "s," my father's hat.
